A Message from Our President/CEO

We are excited to be here again—reflecting on another year with you!

The expectation at the start of the year was that things would begin to return to normal without the weight of restrictions due to the Pandemic. We were also looking forward to the opportunity to grow as an organization. For the first time in many years.

And thankfully, due to the tremendous support from our community, we were able to add much needed programs that have positively impacted the community in 2022.

Including an Assistive Technology component to our services has been exciting—considering technology, the use of phones, apps, and computers are the future of how those who are blind and visually impaired will live independently in their home and surrounding community.

We were also thrilled to begin to offer Orientation and Mobility to our clients. Utilizing the white cane (and so many other mobility techniques) is an essential component to a fully comprehensive delivery of service.

Providing the individual with all they need to live a full and independent life is the main strength and goal of what we offer at Northeast Sight Services.

And we thank YOU for helping us do just that!

IT ONLY TAKES THAT ONE STEP YOUR IMPACT IN ACTION

"It is crazy all the things (your other senses) start to notice, when it is now all you rely on," Amber said.

When Amber, 37, suddenly lost her vision last summer she thought she might have lost everything. She wasn't sure how she was going to take care of herself, let alone her recently adopted niece and nephew. She could no longer get around as she normally would and honestly, she felt like she could no longer do anything.

But not one to surrender and quit, Amber began the process of starting over – learning how to be a young, independent mother with low vision. Luckily she has an excellent support system – and they helped her get in touch with Northeast Sight Services. Then everything started to change.

Northeast Sight Services' Orientation & Mobility (O&M) training helps a person with a visual impairment know where he or she is in space and where he or she wants to go (orientation) and how to carry out a plan to get there (mobility).

But Orientation & Mobility is so much more than that. It is freedom, it is independence, it is providing someone with low vision a chance to live again by showing them a new way of life. It isn't always easy, but it's always worth it.

"I am getting my confidence back and regaining my independence," Amber noted. "I am learning to live again, which is the most valuable thing to me – I'm so grateful for the program."

Working with our O&M Specialist for an hour each week, Amber has learned so much. She's learning how to navigate, which requires the mastering of many skills and techniques, how to square up to face destinations, using the dial of clock as a navigation tool, finding and remembering landmarks, listening for cars to know when it is safe, recognizing different textures when walking, how to shield yourself safely when traveling to keep safe, how to navigate steps and elevators, plus so much more.

"I am never going to give up and so far that's working for me and I'm getting better and better. I feel better about myself – because someone is helping me live the way I want to live again. And I'm so grateful for that."

If you or someone you know might benefit from learning more about our Orientation & Mobility program, please visit www.northeastsight.org for more information.

Northeast Sight Services proudly offered nearly 200 hours of Vision Rehabilitation Therapy (VRT) to blind and visually impaired clients.

These VRT skills teach and guide people as they learn new ways of accomplishing daily living skills after experiencing vision loss. Our goal is to encourage greater independence and an improved quality of life.

There is a wide range of assistive technology that our clients can benefit from learning how to use depending on their needs:

- Magnification
- Screen Reading Technology
- Various Different Applications
- Smart Phone/Tablet Accessibility

Our relatively new Assistive Technology program hit the ground running September 2022 and has been able to provide over 60 hours of assistive tech training to 11 different clients.

Learn more about how VRT and Assistive Technology can benefit you or the person with low vision in your life, by visiting www.northeastsight.org.

"We continue to support Northeast Sight Services because our now 100 year old Great Aunt has been able to get valuable services provided and useful devices needed to help her. Northeast Sight has been a blessing for her and us."

Meehan and Michael Families Kingston

Each year, we provide Children's Vision Screenings for thousands of children in our service areas. These screenings help to detect potential vision and eye health problems, often before symptoms are noticed.

All of our Children's Vision Screenings are free of charge—because of the generosity of individuals, like you, who understand just how important this service is to the children who attend these daycares, pre-schools and Kindergarten Registrations where we have the privilege to screen.

"The Children's Vision Screening provided by Northeast Sight Services plays an integral role in supporting our Pre-School to Pre-Kindergarten students. It emphasizes the importance of vision and how early detection sets up students for success. We thank them for providing this program to all our students. Throughout the years, the early screenings have informed parents and helped children get the appropriate services needed."

of NEPA

Our Insight Kids Club of NEPA had another fantastic year helping children who are blind and visually impaired make connections, learn new things and most importantly, have fun!

We were so happy to have over 50 children participate again this year—enjoying so many fun activities, like our Beeping Egg Hunt, seasonal baking sessions, bowling and so much more.

All of these programs provide the kids with a fun and exciting time, but also with truly important life skills they will need as they get older—orientation and mobility as they navigate new locations, daily living and self—advocacy skills as well as much needed age appropriate awareness and participation in activities.

Our Summer with InSight was another great time for all who participated. We had a great kick off to the summer programs with a trip to Lake Tobias Wildlife Park.

Camp Sight followed for two weeks in mid July where a tight knit group of kids enjoyed swimming, art classes, mini golf, day trips to the Electric City Aquarium and Reptile Den and the Electric City Trolley Museum, a scavenger hunt through downtown Wilkes-Barre and so much more!

We then enjoyed a fun filled day at Knoebel's Amusement Park with all of the kids and their families in August.

"The InSight Kids Club has been a blessing for my daughter, Kristina. She enjoys going to different places and experiencing different activities—as well as all the skills she's learning while trying new gadgets. She especially loves the time she gets to see her friends in person. Kristina described her experience with InSight as a "found family.""
